

Boston Busing Issue Affects Total Nation

Percy H. Steele, Jr., Executive Director of the Bay Area Urban League and incidentally, a native of Boston, issued the following statement responding to the present situation in Boston regarding the busing of Black school children:

Boston, thought of as the city of progressive thought and the cradle of American democracy, has set the pace for the country almost from the beginning of our history.

It was in Boston that the idea for a public school system was formed and it was in Boston that the first public school system was created.

Boston gave this country its first public library, its first municipal water system, the first successful newspaper in the country.

It was there that the copyright law was conceived, the draft system drawn up and even the first Black representative to sit in any state legislature elected.

Surely we can agree that Boston does have the power to, and in many instances does, set the pace - which the nation follows.

It is because of these past demonstrations of leading the nation and creating a trend, that we must view the current anti-busing riots in Boston as a national issue. It is possible that we Blacks in every part of the nation will find ourselves affected by this regressive spectacle.

The lives lost, the battles fought, the gains so hard won over the past 20 years, could be reversed because of Boston's refusal to solve its racial problems. We could very shortly find ourselves in a nation where it is no longer the policy to even pursue racial balance.

Jonathan Kozol's book, Death At An Early Age, stated that Boston's Black children stand very little chance to get a quality education in that city's school system. The all white Boston School Committee has not demonstrated any will to change that situation and assure every Black youngster that he or she has a chance to get a decent education in his or her own neighborhood school.

The Desegregation Committee's solution to ease the situation by attempting to bus the Black youngsters to somewhat better, although still inadequate, schools has been met with the reactions we all know now.

As the Executive Director of the National Urban League, Vernon Jordan, stated in October, "The supreme court joined the crowd...with a ruling that bars busing between predominately Black urban school districts and white suburban districts."

With the hope of federal intervention gone, and with busing, in this case, not serving any productive purpose anyway, the question to be dealt with is whether or not a lot of energy should be spent mounting massive civil rights rallies to force a situation that will be met with staunch resistance and that isn't really a solution anyway.

Blacks in Boston have already established the beginnings of a viable alternative to the city's antiquated school system by establishing the Federation of Community Schools, which in cooperation with other Black operated institutions, provides some of Boston's Black youngsters a quality, well-rounded education with attention to their psychological and spiritual well-being as well as to their place in history and the world society.

This Federation of Community schools is a shining example of what dedicated teachers and parents and an interested community can achieve in breaking the Black youngsters from the death grip the Boston school system has had on them.

Perhaps the battle to be mounted should be one of fighting for financial support from local and federal governments to support more community schools, not only in Boston, but here in San Francisco and all around the country.

Educator's Warning

Nation's Children Threatened by Insensitivity

The federal government's grudging and limited support of education could make this a nation whose children will all be potentially handicapped, James A. Harris, president of the National Education Association, has declared.

Harris made the accusation after NEA and five other national education organizations, commonly called the "Big Six," presented legislative recommendations to Caspar W. Weinberger, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Besides NEA, the Big Six—the Legislative Conference of National Education Organizations—includes the American Association of School Administrators, Council of Chief State School Officers, National Association of State Boards of Education, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the National School Boards association.

Weinberger's reaction to Big Six recommendations for education legislation was to reprimand the organizations for putting their concern for education ahead of a "balanced economy." This response, Harris declared, showed "Tremendous insensitivity to the needs of education" and a lack of "genuine" interest in input from education experts.

"It's not necessary that anybody take budget cuts in order to balance the budget," Harris stressed. "We're not in the game of setting up enemies by suggesting where cuts should come from. Reforms such as plugging tax loopholes, eliminating shelters for large corporations, and doing away with tax cuts for the wealthy are sufficient."

The NEA president concluded that "all children could be handicapped by the Administration's attitude," noting that Weinberger gave no satisfactory response to charges that federal spending for education programs can't be deferred without doing "irreparable damage" to students, many of whom "would never resume their interrupted education."

The representatives of the six organizations scored both the Ford Administration and Congress for failing to support a higher priority for education—a "failure of leadership" which is "absolutely counter to the public interest in general, and damaging to the nation's economy."

Noting a lack of commitment in both the President's education budget request and Congressional appropriations, the organizations declared: "It is short-sighted to reduce support for education in a time of economic hardship."

The education leaders cited the need for increased federal financial assistance for education of the handicapped and culturally deprived, as well as vocational and bilingual education.

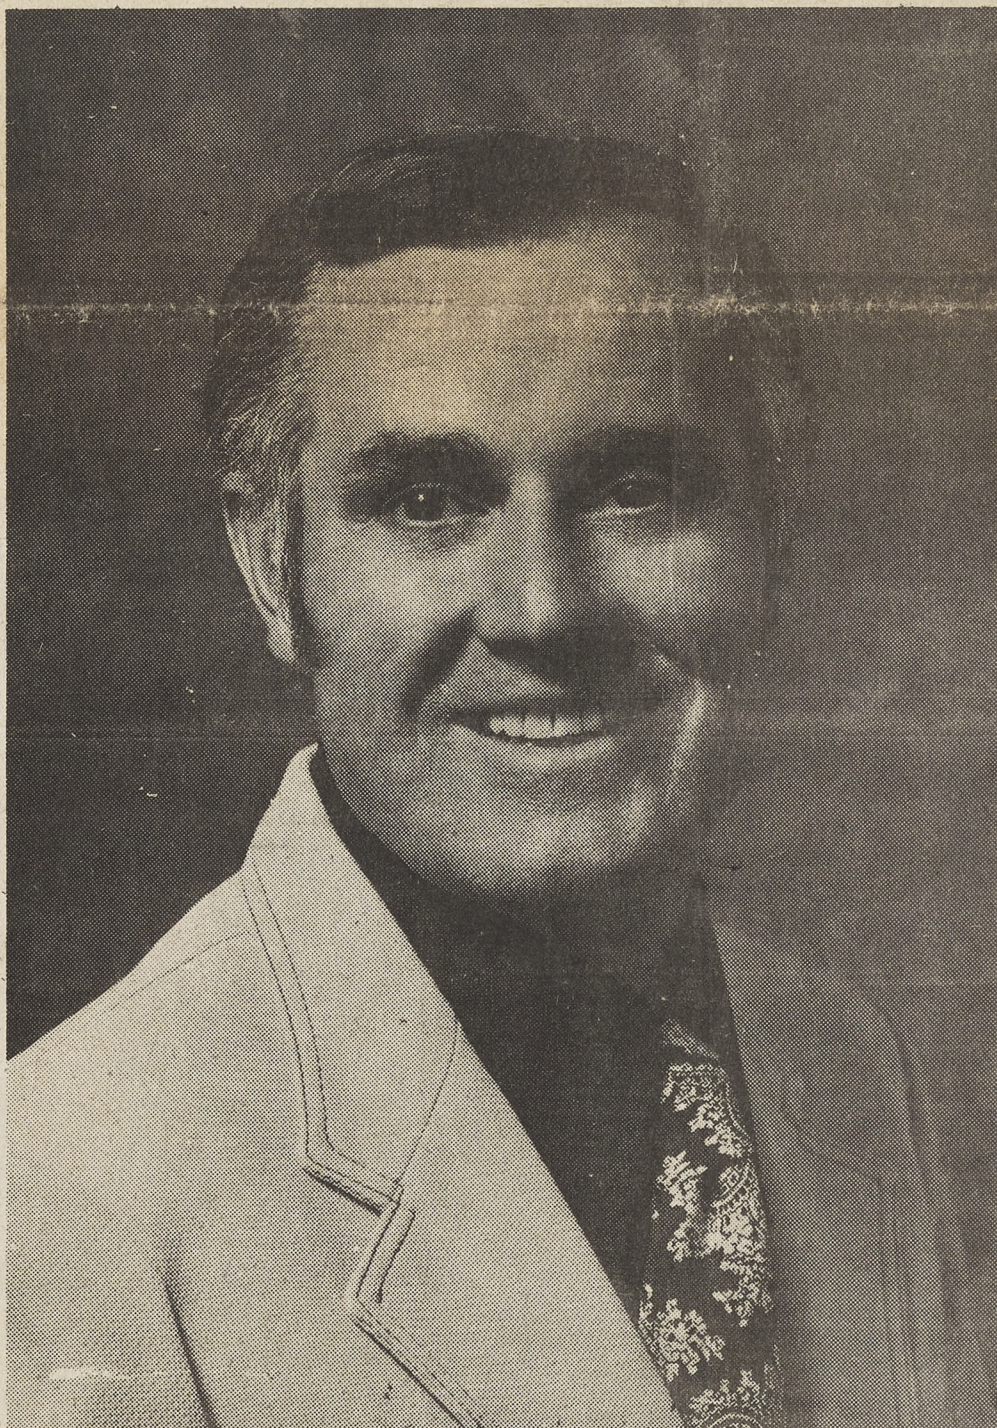

They also strongly urged "expansion of education programs that aid the economy such as public service employment in the schools, support for school construction, expanded vocational education and retraining of adults, and use of schools as community service centers."

They also recommended:

—A Cabinet-level Department of Education, Congressional rejection of proposals such as executive deferrals and rescissions which reduce the already declining federal support for schools, Congressional action to "increase the overall federal budget priority for education," and permanent forward funding, though cautioning Congress to be flexible enough to provide "supplemental appropriations to satisfy emerging educational needs in any year."

Eureka Federal Savings Opens 1st. EFS Monterey County Branch At Seaside

Bill Socie

Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association — EFS — one of California's oldest and most prestigious savings institutions, will open its first Monterey County office in Seaside, January 2, it was announced today by president Kenneth L. Kidwell.

Located at 1658 Fremont

Bldv., at the corner of Clementina Ave., the Seaside office of Eureka Federal will become the 19th branch for the San Francisco headquartered savings institution with assets over $430 million.

In taking over the site of a former bank, Eureka Federal has completely remodeled the 2,180 square foot building, transforming it into a beautiful colonial setting in terms of both decor and furnishing.

The free-standing building has ample parking and will have a drive-up teller window with extended business hours.

Newly announced manager of Eureka's Seaside office is Zvonimir "Bill" Socie, a longtime Carmel resident. Socie has been active in the Monterey area financial community for the past 21 years. He is currently president of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies Alumni Association.

A full service savings and loan office, Eureka Federal will offer its depositors free safety deposit boxes, and free checking accounts through cooperating banks.

Although the office will open January 2nd for business, the grand opening ceremonies and festivities will be held Jan. 6-8.

C.P.U.C. Assist Seaside City

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10 — The California Public Utilities Commission allocated $12,625 to Seaside to assist the city in paying for its share of the costs of improving crossing protection at the Roberts Road and Humboldt Street crossings of the Southern Pacific tracks.

The city and the railroad agreed to share equally in constructing the new protection, which consists of four flashing light signals with automatic gates at each crossing. Two of the Humboldt Street signals will also have cantilevers. Cost of construction was estimated to be $40,500.

The PUC allocation from the Crossing Protection Fund will pay half the city's share of the construction project. The fund was established by the Legislature to assist cities and counties in providing increased protection at railroad-highway grade crossings.

Legislation granting the more than half-million California Social Security recipients a full cost of living increase is being introduced by State Senate Democratic Leader George Moscone.

"This legislation tells the aged, blind and disabled that—come next July 1—when cost of living increases take effect they will get the increase based on the entire grant, not just on that part paid by the state," said Senator Moscone.

"Without this bill people will be driven into the streets, hungry—creating the kind of spectre that we ought not countenance in this state or nation," said Senator Moscone.

The federal government provides about two-thirds of normal SSI payments and a cost of living increase is expected at the start of the new fiscal year in July.

Without legislation like that authored by Senator Moscone, the increase would only be based on that part of the support provided by the state.

Senator Moscone serves as Chairman of the Joint Committee on Federal Social Security Amendments of 1972.

"It seems to border on the criminal to tell the elderly and infirm that others in society can get cost of living increases, but that they cannot," said Senator Moscone. "A great part of the funding for this measure could come from the annual 're-shuffling' of grants paid by the state and federal governments," he added.

When the federal government grants cost of living increases they are "captured" by the state which reduces the amount of its contribution. The Legislative Analyst recently estimated this figure at $145 million.

Senator Moscone, a Democrat representing San Francisco and San Mateo counties, noted that many elderly couples are being driven close to the point of extinction by the size of their current SSI grants which is $235 a month.

"How any elderly couple can pay the rent and buy adequate food on $235 is incredible," said Senator Moscone.

"These are the people who are truly suffering the problems of inflation. Unless the law is changed we are put in the position of telling them they have to get along with a cost of living increase that is substantially less than half of what is due them."

"Six months ago we learned that our elderly citizens were eating dog and cat food to subsist. The cost of living has risen sharply even since then," added Senator Moscone.

"All of us are looking down the barrel of inflation. But the aged and handicapped are faced with getting only a portion of what is due them in a cost of living increase measured in the past few months. That's already an after-the-fact increase and we are being told that less than half of that must do," concluded the Senator.

KDON-Salinas Send A Fort Ord Soldier Home

In order to stimulate similar promotions by other radio stations across the country near military bases, KDON-Salinas held a contest last month to send a Fort Ord Soldier home for Christmas. The prize was to be a first class roundtrip flight to wherever in the world the winner called home plus $100.00 spending money. The winning entrant was chosen Thanksgiving Day from over 15,000 entry blanks returned to the station. The winner is Fort Ord Soldier William Monahan. Monahan's family, it turns out, are all located in California except for his mother and father who reside in Union, Ohio. Monahan hasn't seen his mother in two years. Monahan decided he would like to have the money, but that he had decided to spend Christmas with his wife and children at Fort Ord.

KDON learned that Monahan's grandmother lives in close proximity to him and that she hadn't seen her daughter in six years, so KDON is flying Monahan's Mother to California for a family reunion. Monahan was presented the tickets and cash at a short ceremony December 6th at Fort Ord's Main Gate.

Ione Olson Cleans Up!

Money doesn't grow on trees, but if you look closely you may find some of it on school grounds!

The Student Council at Ione Olson School organized a schoolgrounds clean-up campaign. A schedule of classes to keep the grounds clean was drawn up by the council. On the very first week of the campaign, Jean Wet-tach, fourth grade students from Mrs. Kathy Morgan's room, came upon a rare find. Among the assembled bits and scraps in her pick-up bag was a piece of a 100 dollar bill. It was not a big enough piece to allow Jean to cash the bill...only about 25 per cent was found. But high motivation abounds at Olson School for students to pick up every scrap of paper they see.

"Ingrained Prejudice" Is Behind Complaints Of Reverse Discrimination

WASHINGTON, D. C.,—Recent complaints of "reverse discrimination" against white men "reveal a peculiarly ingrained type of prejudice," National Education Association President James A. Harris charged recently adding that some people "simply can't bring themselves to believe that white males aren't always more qualified."

Harris made the charge in the wake of an announcement by Peter E. Holmes, director of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's Office of Civil Rights, concerning college employment practices. Holmes indicated that federal affirmative action guidelines were being widely misinterpreted—there is no requirement that less-qualified women and minority group members be hired over while males, he said.

Holmes' announcement came after several dozen prominent university professors complained to President Ford that the federal government's affirmative action program is "unjust and discriminatory."

Harris pointed out that NEA has never been under the impression that college affirmative action programs called for a drop in employee quality. "On the contrary," he said, "fully qualified women and minorities have been systematically excluded from top faculty jobs while preference was given to white males."

If women or minorities win top jobs, some people assume that standards must have been lowered, Harris commented.

The NEA leader warned that "we must not allow the HEW statement to be used as a new defense for the old bigoted thinking."

Citizens Demands Lawson Step Down

Howard F. Davis, a citizen of Seaside, in a letter addressed to the Mayor and Members of the City Council demanded that City Councilman Oscar Lawson "suspend himself without pay from his elective office until such time of his exoneration or other disposition of his case."

Councilman Lawson, at press time, is in the process of being arraigned for alleged failure to properly disclose his campaign contributions and expenditures following his successful bid for City Council.

The letter stated: "It has come to the attention of the general public that Councilman Oscar Lawson has been indicted by the Monterey County Grand Jury for failure to properly disclose his campaign contributions and expenditures."

"In view of this allegation, I respectfully suggest that Mr. Lawson suspend himself without pay from his elective office until such time of his exoneration or other disposition of his case."

The letter continued: "This action most assuredly parallels the thinking of his Campaign Manager, James 'Pat' Patterson, who a few years ago demanded the suspension of another Seaside official until the outcome of the allegations against him."

"Perhaps 4th District Supervisor Roger Poyner may want to suspend him as his aide also, until further clarification of the charges against Mr. Lawson."

"In addition, it is recommended that Mr. Lawson temporarily suspend himself from his duties on the Monterey County Democratic Committee. And since Mr. Patterson is also a member of that Committee, perhaps he can relay Mr. Lawson's action to that Committee," The letter said.

Neither Mr. Lawson or Mayor Dolan were available for comment at press time.

Apply Now For Summer Parks Jobs

Group members with a valid driver's license, a good driving record and are able to meet the public well may be eligible for seasonal employment next summer in the California State Park System according to an announcement recently by State Parks Director William Penn Mott, Jr.

Seasonal Employment involves primarily park cleanup and repair, public contact at entry stations, and lifeguarding, Mott said. A civil service examination is not required, he added, but lifeguard candidates must pass a rigorous swimming test.

Because housing is not normally available in parks, residents living near park units are preferred, Mott pointed out. He also noted that whenever possible, preference is given to students working to complete their education.

The pay rate for maintenance aid is $2.20 per hour; for park aid, it is $3.01 per hour; and for lifeguard, $4.23 per hour.

Maintenance and park aid jobs are available throughout the state, while most of the lifeguarding jobs are at southern California beaches.

Mott stressed that there are many applicants for each job opening and urged persons interested in applying to apply early, preferably before February 1, 1975.

More information can be obtained by contacting State Park units or by writing to the California State Department of Parks and Recreation, Attention, Affirmative Action Section, P.O. Box 2390, Sacramento, California 95811.

License Plate Changes

Department of Motor Vehicles Director Robert Cozens advises motorists renewing their vehicle registrations for 1975 that instructions to place the license plate sticker in the "top right well" of the rear license plate are not in error.

"Following the instructions, even though this results in covering the 1974 sticker," he said. "We realize that this is a departure from the traditional switching from one side of the license plate to the other."

From now on, the right hand well of the license plate will always show the year. The left hand well is reserved for a sticker which will show the renewal month when year-round registration begins.

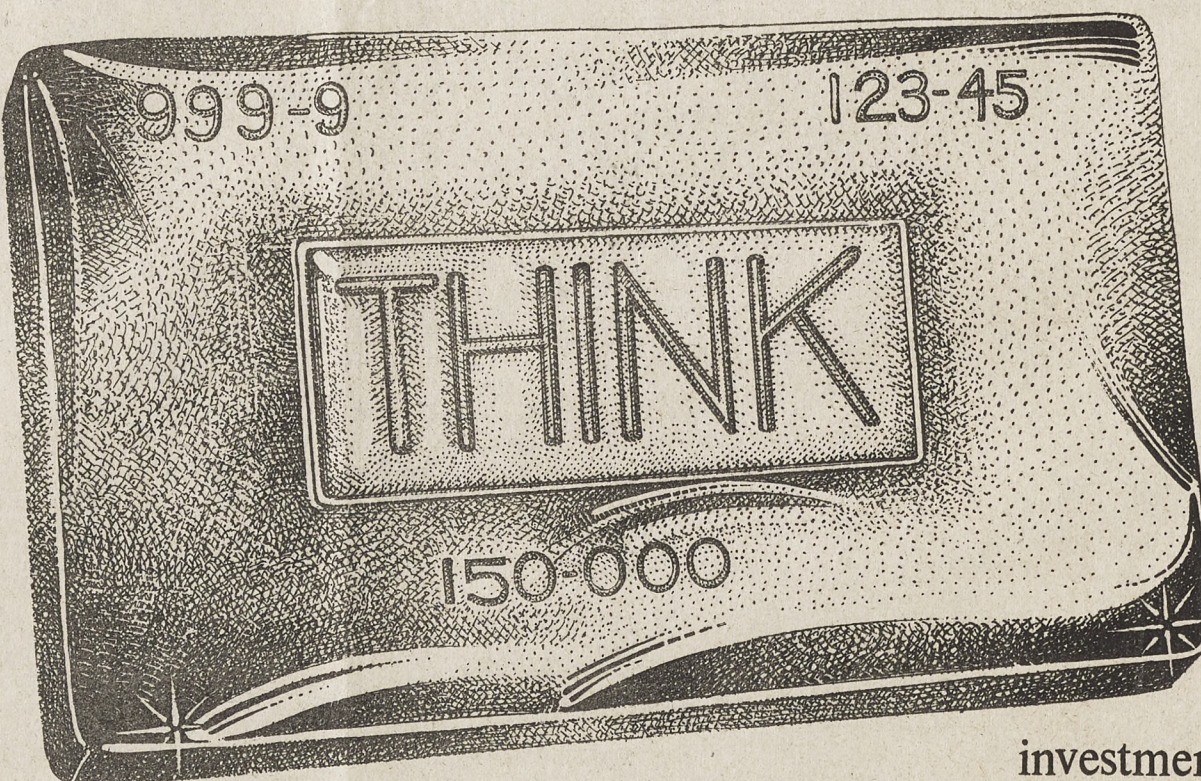

DMV had planned to start year-round registration right away, and instructions were printed with that in mind. Computer difficulties have postponed the start of year-round renewal for one year.

Security Council Protest

For the first time the United Nations Security Council unanimously asked South Africa to undertake a commitment to end "the continued illegal occupation" of South West Africa.

Previously Security Council proclamations had merely called on South Africa to give up its administration of the territory, known in the United Nations by its African name Namibia.

Crocker offers 3 fine gold plans with one word of caution:

Crocker Bank believes that any investment should be made only after thoughtful and prudent consideration. This is especially true with gold. Market conditions for any commodity are constantly changing. And besides the obvious risks involved, an investment in gold doesn't earn interest.

But whether you're someone who has always been attracted to the idea of owning gold, or someone interested in a large or small investment... once you've decided gold is for you, buy from a reputable source only.

We'll be offering three ways to invest:

First, you can take actual possession of the gold. In this case, you'll have to find safe storage, and pay sales taxes and assay costs if you sell again. Most buyers will demand proof of authenticity (assay) unless the gold is in the custody of a recognized financial institution such as Crocker Bank.

Gold bullion in denominations of 1/2 ounce to 100 ounces is now available at Crocker. We are one of the few sources offering the 1/2 and 1-ounce denominations that allow the average person to invest within their means.

Second, you may simply accept a receipt for your gold. Your investment will be safely tucked away in our vault, saving you unnecessary assay costs later.

Third, you may accept a certificate. Your gold will be safely stored at a major Canadian bank. You'll avoid all shipping charges, insurance, sales taxes and future assay costs. Certificates are available from 5 ounces in increments of 5 ounces.

For some interesting historical facts and information on the risks and rewards of gold, write us at this address: Crocker Bank, Gold Marketing Dept., P. O. Box 38000, San Francisco, Calif. 94138. We'll send you a copy of our gold brochure.

Whether you look upon gold as a useful emergency reserve and inflation hedge or as a highly speculative commodity, if you've chosen to buy, buy from someone who can give you a choice. Crocker Bank.

Unemployment Benefits Extended for Many

Unemployed workers who may be eligible for benefit payments under legislation signed December 20, by President Ford should note that the first day when applications will be taken is Monday, January 6, 1975. This is the message from California's Employment Development Department. Two bills were signed, one providing extra benefits to insured claimants, the other providing benefits to other jobless workers not eligible under the insurance program. The kick-off date for applying under either program is January 6.

One bill, the Emergency Unemployment Compensation Act, provides up to 13 weeks of additional unemployment insurance payments, making possible a maximum of 52 weeks' payments to an insured jobseeker. The weekly benefit, ranging from $25 to $90, and the number of weeks benefits can be paid depend on the previous earnings of the claimant.

The other bill, the Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance Act, provides for similar benefit payments, up to a maximum of 26 weeks, to unemployed workers not covered by the insurance program. For the most part, these would be agricultural workers, employees of state and local government and domestics.

realize that the benefits for formerly uncovered workers will involve a tremendous increase in workload," he said.

"An insured claimant's work history and earnings will be fairly easy to check, because we have those records. But workers with uninsured employment who will be claiming under the new program should bring their records of earnings, employers' names and addresses, social security card number and other documentary evidence to help establish a valid claim," Camilli added.

"These claims will be handled just as fast as possible, but it will take time to process and prepare them for payment," Camilli added.

"However, our people will take every possible step to gear up for this monumental task for recalling temporary workers with claims experience, by opening for business earlier or closing later, by using staff from other programs to help, and generally to make the prompt payment of benefits our first priority."

Synthetic Oil Gets the Real Thing

The Chicago Bridge and Iron Company of Fremont, California which has been contracted to build oil storage tanks along the Alaskan pipeline has purchased EON E-11 synthetic motor oil. Lowell Olson of Chicago Bridge said that "EON will be used in the motors of lifting equipment, hydraulic cranes and trucks. We wanted to see if EON holds true to all the claims made for it."

In a circular to all U.S. law enforcement agencies the U.S. Department of Justice stated that "EON E-11 is a synthetic non-hydrocarbon based motor lubricant which has been tested since March, 1973 by the Houston Police Department. Nineteen marked police vehicles were used for the experiment. Upon completion of 20,000 miles one engine was disassembled and revealed no appreciable wear. The engine was virtually sludge free. All 19 vehicles have now reached 30,000 miles without an oil change."

Mr. Olson reports that, "motor lubricants which can withstand the sub-zero Alaskan temperatures are becoming scarce. The several companies contracted on the Alyeska project are all in need of lubricants capable of withstanding the cold."

Assemblyman Speaks Out On Economic Problems

No one has to be told that the economy is suffering from inflation pushing prices out of control. The old phrase, "I can remember when a nickel was worth a nickel," has been replaced with, "What's a nickel?"

Reasons for the sharp cost increases in California are complex and extend far beyond the State's boundaries. The roots began to grow with worldwide crop failures, cutbacks in petroleum production, last year's economic expansion by most industrial nations and a drop in the supply of basic manufacturing materials.

According to Assemblyman Ken Meade compounding the problem was the total, unforgivable lack of leadership from Washington. Instead of helping combat the wage-price spiral, the Nixon Administration let political expediency be its guide. There were abrupt policy reversals, programs designed to fail and a general attempt to deceive the consumer.

By the end of Phase IV controls, Nixon's official policy toward inflation appeared to be do nothing and allowed it to run its course.

As in all other parts of the nation, the phenomenal rise in the cost of living in California can be traced, at least in part, to the failures of the Republican Administration in Washington.

Studies show that the dramatic price increases have occurred in almost every area of daily life.

HOUSING: Home prices increased last year almost three times as fast as during the decade from 1960 to 1970. In the last year and a half, for example, homebuyers in Los Angeles had to pay almost $120 more for every $1,000 spent.

MEDICAL CARE: Californians have had to suffer medical cost increases to match the inflation in housing. Hospital charges are rising 17.7 percent and doctor bills 19.1 percent a year.

FOOD: Last year, the increase in food prices statewide was close to 20 percent. And in the first six months of 1974, the cost of groceries climbed another six percent.

OTHER CONSUMER ITEMS: The average cost of private transportation went up 14.9 percent in the San Francisco Bay Area and 12.2 percent in Los Angeles-Long Beach. There have been similar increases in clothing and recreation.

THE ELDERLY: Inflation may sentence many older Californians to live out their lives in poverty. The average Social Security benefits are still only $186 per month, despite this year's 11 percent increase.

MIDDLE INCOME CALIFORNIANS: In 1973, a family earning $12,000 had to spend $1,100 more just to maintain its 1972 standard of living. The added expenses were primarily for food (up $502 for the same amount), housing ($165), transportation ($30) and personal needs and clothing ($57).

Prices are not the only things going up. Taxes are too. Many families must now earn 38 percent more than in 1967 just to maintain the standard of living of seven years ago. Ironically, families able to keep pace with inflation often found that the increased salaries pushed them into higher tax brackets actually leaving less real income than before.

While we must still look to Washington for many of the solutions to inflation, the State Legislature will be making a determined effort to find answers of its own when the new session opens in December.

Among the top priorities will be legislation dealing with food prices and production, the oil industry and gasoline marketing practices, taxes and tax reform, the Public Utilities Commission and tougher consumer laws to insure that shoppers get what they pay for.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I am a member of several senior citizens clubs. Some of them are: Seaside Senior Citizens, Concerned Senior Citizens of Monterey Peninsula, Golden Agers, and AARP.

I feel certain that I convey the words of appreciation of many golden agers when I say: "THANK YOU, COMMUNITY MERCHANTS AND BUSINESSMEN AND ASSEMBLY OF GOD OF SEASIDE CHURCH FOR THE COMMUNITY MERRY CHRISTMAS DINNER. IT WAS WONDERFUL. THANK ALL WHO HELPED WITH FUNDS AND EFFORTS TO MAKE IT SO. SEASIDE CAN BE PROUD."

The room in the church that we came to was attractive. It had the atmosphere of a jolly Christmas, so that many seniors who were lonely just had to feel happy. The food was excellent. It was ample. Those who served were kindly and solicitous. The entertainment was lovely. Pastor Lee Mildon was very friendly and smiling.

My husband and I are alone on the Peninsula - we have no relations around. It did my 80-year old heart good to bask in the kindly atmosphere of the occasion. May the good Lord bless richly the church, and the individuals, who made possible this long-to-be-remembered event of Christian love and compassion!

Yours truly,

What makes a hero? How much is a life worth? According to Post Commander of American Legion Post 121, Watsonville, its worth a hell of a lot. On the 15th of December, 1974, his

Alan Cranston Protest a Proposal To Raise The Price Of Food Stamps

Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.) and a bipartisan group of 42 Senators have protested a proposal to raise the price of food stamps for 15 million elderly and poor people—1.3 million live in California.

Cranston estimated that "1.5 million beneficiaries will be forced to give up food stamps entirely because they will no longer be able to afford the higher costs of the stamps after paying rent, heat and other essential bills."

In a letter sent last week to Royal Shipp, director of the food stamp division of the Department of Agriculture, the Senators asserted that "there are many ways to fight inflation in this country that make economic and social sense. But cutting the food stamp bonus and risking increased hunger to thousands of American families makes no sense at all."

The Department of Agriculture issued its proposed regulation Dec. 6 in response to President Ford's plan to cut back the food stamp program by $325 million this fiscal year.

Under the current sliding scale system, recipients are charged a percentage of their incomes for food stamps. The average is 23 percent. Under the President's proposal, recipients would have to put up a flat 30 percent of their incomes.

Food stamps are sold to eligible poor families who then redeem them at the supermarket for food worth more than they paid for the stamps. Cranston cited two examples to illustrate how single people and the elderly poor would bear the brunt of Ford's food stamp program reduction.

A single person earning $150 a month now pays $33 for $46 worth of food stamps. Under the new regulation he would have to pay 30 percent of his income, $45, for the same $46 in food.

An elderly couple with $270 a month income would end up paying $31 for $84 worth of food. They currently pay $62 for $82 in food stamps.

A statement to this writer from a ranking officer from the Seaside Police Dept., was (quote) "Sergeant Burdett is one of the finest officers on the force."

The activity of Sgt. Burdett on December 15 lends credibility to the above statement, and his actions should be locally recognized and properly applauded.

Too often policemen are degraded because they give a citizen a deserved traffic ticket. How about a little credit to a policeman who saves life.

Seaside Post No. 591, American Legion, Seaside, reported that their Post had donated much needed assistance to the needy of the Peninsula. Among their contributions were:

- $100 to the Salvation Army-Xmas Basket Fund
- $100 to the Senior Citizens Club, Seaside.
- $100 to the Gateway Center School for Retarded Children.
- $50 to the Pacific School for the physically Handicapped.

This report was submitted by the Chairman of the Legion's Community Service Committee, Leo Woicekowsky.

New Opening

Assemblyman Frank Murphy, Jr. (R-Santa Cruz) has announced the opening of a new district office in Suite 502 of Professional Building, 215 W. Franklin Street, in Monterey.

Murphy's former district offices in Merced and Watsonville have been combined because of the new 28th Assembly District is much more compact than the old 31st District which stretched from Santa Cruz on the coast to Merced in the Central Valley.

Only those districts which cover a large geographical area are authorized more than one district office.

Murphy will, however, continue his 24-hour telephone answering service in Watsonville. The telephone number there is (408) 722-3939.

Mr. Albert "Bud" Leslie, Murphy's Administrative Assistant, will continue to handle district affairs. He lives in La Selva Beach near Watsonville.

Mrs. Shirley Bickel will serve as district office secretary in Monterey. Mrs. Bickel served as Secretary to the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee under former Assemblymen John Veneman of Modesto and William Bagley of Marin County, from 1967 until 1970, when she left the Capitol to join McGraw-Hill-CTB in Monterey.

Murphy and his family reside in Santa Cruz.

Claim Filed Against City Housing Authority

A claim letter has been filed with the City Attorney's office on behalf of Ardis Pearson of Oakland by his attorney Dan Siegel against the Oakland Housing Authority. The claim states that Pearson was humiliated and disgraced.

For the past four years, Pearson has been employed as a "groundsman" by the Oakland Housing Authority. Two and one-half years ago he was assigned to work in the OHA stove shop and one year ago became head of that shop.

Since becoming head of the stove shop, Pearson has repeatedly requested that his job classification and pay be upgraded to a position commensurate with his responsibilities. On several occasions his superiors promised him that he would be upgraded, but no action has been taken. Recently the dispute became more open.

On Friday, December 13, 1974, Pearson was called into the office of Marvin Edwards, OHA maintenance director, to discuss his work with Edwards and with Bob Kelly, his foreman.

Twenty minutes after the discussion began, two Oakland Police officers, who had been called by Edwards, burst into the room, informed Pearson that they had been told that he was a "narcotics user," searched, looked for needle marks on his arms, shined a flashlight into his eyes, and accused him of being a "user."

When the officers could find nothing to back up their charges, they called into the warrant bureau and arrested Pearson on an outstanding traffic warrant. Several hours later Pearson bailed out.

Siegel said Pearson is not in any way, shape or form a narcotics user. The actions of Edwards and Kelly in making this accusation against him constituted both slander and malicious persecution.

These actions subjected Pearson to humiliation and disgrace among his fellow workers and residents of the OHA housing project as well as loss of work, inconvenience, and needless expense, Siegel said.

As a result Pearson was damaged to the extent of $10,000, and (hereby) makes demand upon the city of Oakland for reimbursement in that amount, he said.

The city has 100 days in which to reject or accept the claim. Until then Pearson and his attorney will wait, if no answer is received at the end of the 100 days, a suit will probably be filed.

Armed Forces Sponsor Bicentennial Vans

Sixteen U.S. Armed Forces exhibit vans will tour the country in 1975 and 1976 as part of the Armed Forces' participation in the nation's Bicentennial celebration, according to local Army representative Sergeant First Class Jose Garcia.

The vans will be geared to helping local communities in organizing Bicentennial activities. Plans call for the tours to begin on July 4, 1975, and continue until Dec. 31, 1976.

Each caravan of four vehicles will include a miniature, historical memorabilia, slides, photos and film segments. The sergeant explained that additional information is obtainable from the U.S. Armed Forces Bicentennial Exhibit Van Project office at McClellan Air Force Base, California 95652.

WRITE ON THE RUN

LAS VEGAS, NEV. - The happening was in Las Vegas, where Sammy Davis, Jr., has a Thanksgiving opening at Caesars Palace. More of us made the trip to this "dice capital" for the event, than did to Africa to see Muhammad Ali wage his successful battle against George Foreman. As you read this, we will be basking in the shadow of the "total talented one" in an attempt to dig the goings-on for a full report the next write around. Meanwhile, here's a sample of the 'round the country scene which has already come into focus. The Lena Horne-Tony Bennett closing at the Minskoff Theatre was a rousing B'way event. As pretty as she's ever been, the quality of her strong and beautiful voice undulated, La Horne was a touch act to follow and no one was more aware of that than nice guy Tony Bennett. She was given a long standing ovation and more backstage attention from friends and fans than has cluttered a stage entrance in a long time. Leading the throng were, Congr'lady Barbara Jordan, opera-super Leontyne Price, "Pippins" star Ben Vereen, screen actor Roscoe Lee Brown, Hazel Scott, whose stint at the Downbeat in Fun City, is a fab happening and the legendary Mable Mercer.

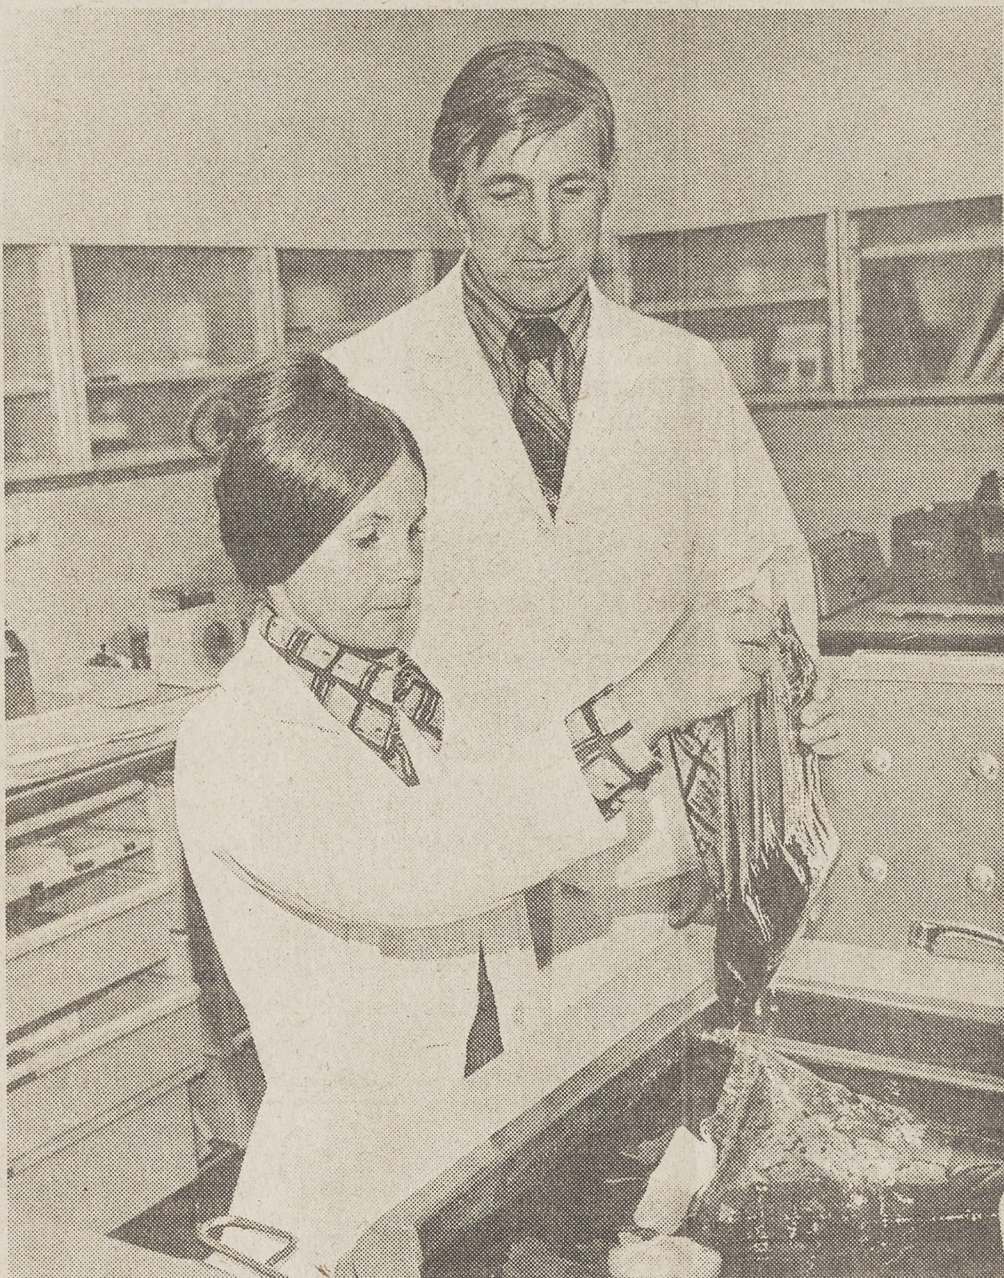

Quentin Kelly and Jack Jordon, who created somewhat of a stir in the flick industry as mixed partners of a black owned and operated production company, have made their split public after 3-years of togetherness. Kelly, the white end of the firm, plans no turning back. He has renamed the firm, Quentin Kelly Enterprises, in hopes of doing biz unlike as usual. The unique aspect of this move is that, now a white person is heading a film company that's financed by black investors. However, Kelly has assured them that there will be no change in the plan to present quality black-cast and mixed films sans the "hate whitey" themes currently lighting up the silver screen. Under the new banner, the co. is off and showing the Ali-Foreman championship tussle in Zaire. The distribution deal could be a coup, and bring the firm out of the forest of past failure. The company is backed by some Arab oil gold, a rolling stock of corporate wheels, booty from some black-orientated brokerage houses and some smaller biz-men in the New England area. The flick you can see with the Ali-Foreman go, "Honeybody, Honeybody," starring the late Diana Sands, was the initial big venture of the flick firm, when it was Kelly-Jordon.

"Force Plus-4," a black kung-fu flick, camera'ed in N'York, has been put into a distribution grab-bag. It was angeled by Caribbean Communications Ltd. which disperses films thruout the West Indies, Latin America and Africa...They're saying that Melba Tolliver, the ABC-TV anchor-reporter has the acting itch. It was scratched briefly the other teevee time, when she appeared as herself in a recent leasing of "One Life to Live"...Al Green has been inked for a role of "Mimi." It will be his first acting chore and he will have Melba Moore and Curtis Mayfield to show him the ropes. They will be co-starred in this Warner Bros. version of "La Boheme." Shooting is set for late Feb. on location in New Orleans...How does this grab ya? Randy Newman's satirical take-off on bigots, "Red-necks," has been banned from radio stations in Boston. Times may be bad and getting "badder," but not for the record stores, as the bigger ones reported a 7 per cent sales increase. With that companies are shifting gears to insure that their labels are in the surge. Bell Records is being phased out and a new co., Arista Records will take over its sounds and some of its stars. Melanie, Lou Rawls The Fifth Dimension and Al Wilson are among about sixteen such artists, that will be retained...Mercer Ellington will lead his late father's work into Queensborough Community College for a mid-Dec. premiere of the Duke's 3rd "Sacred Concert."

WRITE OR WRONG--One of DeeCee's gov'ment biggies is reported to have won 40G's in Vegas without working up a sweat...Law suits on top of legal actions are allegedly brewing in places where George Glass did business. He came out of a gov-job to seek a future in private industry, but has found no favor in his quest todate...One of the country's better known members of the jet-cruise set, was recently given 24-hrs to turn in his resignation papers when it was documented that he was allegedly spending legal gov funds to make illegal trips to his favorite hide-away...Henry Moon, retired press dir. of the NAACP, laughed himself out of a recent illness. On the basis of some undiagnosed pain, he was rushed to the hospital only to discover that it was the pain of a stiff neck and some bad bridge work, rather than a pending heart attack...Betty Granger Reid, the commish-columnist, trip to the hospital was to "take a cold she couldn't shake" and not to alarm friends as it did for a 24'er...Hugh Wyatt, the ace news reporter, is peddling a format for a new interview radio rumpus. He's listed as exec-prod and that lovely Moden Broughton is the producer. A number of corps are giving it eye-attention for possible sponsorship...Adrian James and Marilyn Thomas, two lovelies from the Al Fann Theatrical Ensemble, play shady ladies called "Boney" and "Teartrip" in the "Happy Hooker," being filmed in N'York...Raisin' musical dir. Howard Roberts and gospel singer Ella Mitchell are touring the city's schools doing a song story show that's a big hit with the smallest small-fry. Howard U sponsored a bash to honor Virginia Capers, the prize winning star of the Award winning musica. She is an alumna of the Dee-Cee institution...The pushers are increasing in numbers, seeking an ambassadorial post for astute state dept brain Robert Kitchen. On a more local scene, folks are talking to N'York gov. elect, Hugh Carey about snatching Eleanor Holmes Norton away from the N'York City Human Rights Commission, to head the state's civil rights body...CBS Records, is putting a new emphasis on a special markets dept. It has given Irene Gandy and Barry Orms the dough and the go-ahead to concentrate on black artists...STAY LOOSE.

Cultural Enrichment Students See S.F.

King Junior High School Cultural Enrichment students, which consists of 41 female students, participated in a field trip to San Francisco. In San Francisco, the students were able to see the Ebony Fashion Show on Saturday night and the Nutcracker Ballet on Sunday. Between the busy schedule of attending these fine programs, the students were chaperoned to points of interest in the city. Included in the sightseeing were: the Wharf, Chinatown, Union Square, downtown San Francisco, and rides on the cable cars. Before reaching San Francisco, the students toured the San Jose Flea Market. Many of the girls practicable Christmas gifts for their families, during the

New Bilingual Teachers Program

Applications now are being taken from elementary and secondary teachers for a bilingual-cross cultural specialist credential program to be introduced at San Jose State University for the Spring semester.

Candidates for the program must have a valid teaching credential, the equivalent of a Bachelor's degree and speak Spanish. Deadline for applications is January 6.

The program was developed jointly by the School of Education, Mexican-American Graduate Studies and the Linguistics Program of the School of Humanities and the Arts.

Hector Cordova, chairman, Mexican-American Graduate Studies, said the program leads to the concurrent awarding of a Master of Arts Degree in Mexican-American Graduate Studies with a Bilingual-Bicultural Education Emphasis and a specialist credential.

The program emphasized the development of linguistic and cognitive skills in both Spanish and English on a parity basis in order that each child may develop his intellectual potential, Cordova said.

Also stressed, he added, is the positive reinforcement of the linguistic and cultural characteristics of the child, his family and his community in order that the child's "school self" may be more congruent with his "home self."

Bola Sete, the brilliant Brazilian guitarist, will appear in solo concert at Hartnell College in the Performing Arts Center on Friday evening, January 17, at 8:00 P.M. The university is located at 156 Homestead Avenue in Salinas, California. This presentation in part of Hartnell College's Community Services Program, and admission is free.

Bola Sete is considered one of the world's greatest guitarists and is the virtuoso of the Brazilian guitar. Leonard Feather, in naming him Man of the Year in 1967, said, "Bola Sete is the Rio whirlwind who carries an international passport that takes his guitar across every border of style and technique."

Bola Sete will perform original compositions and traditional Brazilian folk songs. Included are choros (serenades) and macumba (Brazilian voodoo music). Bola's performances are noted as both a cultural and musical phenomenon. Critic Bill Gallagher described part of Bola's 1973 S. F. State concert: "(Sete started) slowly with set rhythms and then (built) on these same bits of the work to a crescendo that saw both his hands tearing across frets and strings, weaving a fabric that sounded like it was coming from a symphony."

Bola Sete's latest album, Bola Sete Solo Volume I, produced by John Fahey, will be released in February by Takoma Records.

Check Was Presented To Nancy Floobush

At the M.P.V.S. meeting on December 6, a check for $8,900 was presented to Nancy Floobush, president of the Family Service Agency by Mrs. James Schallerer, vice-president of M.P.V.S. It was the culmination of months of planning and hard work by the volunteer group for the Fall Sale Project at the Fairgrounds on November 16. With the success of this sale, M.P.V.S. has reached its anticipated one-half million dollar mark in the amount of moneys it has given back to the community since 1955. A celebration tea will be given at the Pebble Beach home of Mrs. Edward Ellies on Tuesday, December 18.

The following donation requests were approved by the membership for the month of December: united Fund, $1,000; Infant Care Center in Seaside, $1,500; Salvation Army Feed Fund, $300.

Dymally Alatorre Propose Program To Aid Foreign Doctors In State

To help reduce the state's doctor shortage, Senator Mervyn Dymally and Assemblyman Richard Alatorre have introduced legislation to set up a state-financed training program for foreign medical school graduates living in California, to help them qualify to practice here.

Senate Bill 56 would appropriate $2 million initially. Training of up to 100 foreign medical graduates (FMGs) a year would be provided for in the concentrated, six-months program.

Said Dymally, the Lieutenant Governor-elect, "Graduates of foreign medical institutions have long complained of discrimination and disinterest when they attempt to get licensed, once they immigrate to California. On the other hand, our state is short of physicians. Our bill proposes to help solve both problems."

In his campaign, Dymally had said that helping different groups would be one of his goals as Lt. Governor. "Helping our FMGs can prove beneficial not only to them, but to our society as a whole,"

he said.

Almost half the doctors now licensed in the U.S. each year are FMGs. But many other FMGs and doctors who emigrate to the U.S. are forced to take menial jobs and sometimes wait years while trying to meet U.S. and California requirements to practice here. The Association of Foreign Medical Doctors estimates there are 600 unlicensed FMGs in California.

"With proper intensive retraining and refresher courses, many could become licensed M.D.s and help solve our shortage," Dymally said. "We have a great pool of unsold talent here of the most ethical nature"

Dymally said he has received numerous complaints from FMGs about wheat they feel is unfairness in California requirements, and unrealistic standards imposed by the State Board of Medical Examiners.

"One doctor from South Africa told me of following the board's requirements over a period of years, in his internship, residency, etc. Then the day before he was to take the state medical exam, he was informed by the board that some aspect of his training didn't meet state requirements after all," said Dymally.

The proposed Foreign Medical Doctors Retraining Act would allocate $15,000 per year per student, and would also set up loans funds for up to $1,000 for FMGs taking the retraining.

The State Dept. of Health would supervise the program, and establish requirements for approval of programs proposed by medical schools.

Provisions for licensing of foreign medical school graduates vary from state to state, with little reciprocity. One result is that a doctor licensed in his home country may pass requirements for licensing in Illinois and New York, but not be able to practice in California. The federal government established its own standards, so that an FMG may be able to practiced in a VA hospital but not in an adjoining state or county hospital.

Hearings on the bill would begin in early 1975. Dymally said he will line up other authors for the bill once he moves out of the Senate into the Lt. Governor's Office in January.

The bill grew out of a hearing in November by Dymally's Subcommittee on Medical Education and Health Needs, on the problems faced by FMGs.

THE PERFECT HOST
Blue Nun Liebfraumilch, 5th
Blue Nun Liebfraumilch (pronounced Leeb-frau-milch) is a soft wine with a touch of fruitiness. It is slightly golden in color. This wine should be refrigerated for approximately three hours before serving.
The medium dry character of Blue Nun will make a truly perfect host to the chicken and a steak feast used this week.
The price of this imported German wine is $3.98 a fifth.
